

MID-COAST CORRIDOR TRANSIT PROJECT

Coastal Commission to Hold Public Hearing on Mid-Coast Coastal Development Permit

The California Coastal Commission will hold a public hearing in San Diego on July 13 to consider approval of the Mid-Coast Trolley project's Coastal Development Permit application.

Portions of the project alignment are located within the coastal zone and are subject to a Coastal Development Permit and a federal consistency certification to be issued by the Commission. The portion of the route in the coastal zone is roughly between Interstate 8 and Balboa Avenue. It includes construction of approximately 3.4 miles of new trolley tracks, as well as bridge crossings at the San Diego River/Friars Road, Tecolote Creek, and Balboa Avenue.

People wishing to testify before the Coastal Commission on the matter are free to attend the hearing or present their concerns by letter to the California Coastal Commission's San Diego Area office located at 7575 Metropolitan Dr., Suite 103, San Diego, CA 92108-4421 on or before the hearing date. The hearing will take place at 9 a.m. on July 13 in the San Diego County Board of Supervisors chambers located at 1600 Pacific Highway, San Diego, CA 92101.

A staff report on the permit application can be found under Item 11b of the Coastal Commission agenda found here.
